

"Smarter" Lyrics

Music and Lyrics by Jean Louis Marcel Pedat aka Jay Elle (ASCAP)

Published by Jean Louis Pedat Music (ASCAP)

Verse 1:

She says it's pink
Pink in the middle
Not a mood ring
Careful how you diddle
It won't kiss itself
Don't you like a riddle?
She says she's had so called gods in bed
A few dirty angels
But the devils know best
Devils know best

Chorus 1:

The female's always smarter
Always knows much better
The female's always smarter
Learn a whole lot from her
The female's always smarter
Always knows much better
Darwin might flinch but she won't give an inch
The female's always smarter
Better work a whole lot harder

Verse 2:

You might think
That you're something special
You might be dreaming
You have great potential
Watch out lover boy
You're just superficial
She says she's had so called gods in bed
A few dirty angels
But the devils know best
Devils know best

Chorus 2:

The female's always smarter
Always knows much better
The female's always smarter
Learn a whole lot from her
The female's always smarter
Always knows much better
Darwin might flinch but she won't give an inch
The female's always smarter
Better work a whole lot harder
Better work a whole lot harder
